Package 1: Implant Mentor Coaching

'Successfully integrating implants into your practice'

The UK dental implant market is rapidly growing and that more and more patients are asking about implant solutions for themselves.

Many dentists want to get involved with Implant Dentistry and have taken courses and programs but are unsure about how to use their basic knowledge and successfully integrate this service within their practice.

Dr Darfoor has developed an 'Implant Mentor Coaching' program, which is based over an initial 6 month period whereby he will work with you and help you to develop and grow a successful implant practice by sharing my knowledge and proven systems for success.

This is a focused program with Dr Darfoor looking after a few clinicians over the 6-month period so that they can get the best out of this individualized package.

The Breakdown

- You want someone to give specific, focused help on how to implement and set up implant protocols and systems for success in your own practice.
- You want to work with someone who is successful and approachable and has incorporated implantology into their practice.
- You may or may not have done some clinical courses and know some of the theory, but you want guidance on how to do it in your own practice.
- You want a clinician who has the scientific and clinical background with relevant experience to help guide you as you get started with the rapidly changing world of Implant Dentistry.
- You want someone to remove the 'fear factor'.
